Sarah Ann Tsai and Lucas Andrew Lang were united in marriage on the evening of September 12, 2009, at First Methodist Church. The candlelight ceremony was officiated by Pastor Stephen Cowley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tsai. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tsai of Charleston, S.C., and Mrs. Helen Schmidt and the late Mr. James Schmidt of Shelby, N.C.

The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Lang. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lang and the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Stevens, all of New York City.

During the ceremony, Melissa Broadwater provided piano and organ accompaniment, and vocalists were Deborah and Jonathan Long.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Vera Wang gown, which was white matte satin and featured a strapless, beaded bodice and an A-line skirt that flowed into a chapel-length train. Her two-tiered, elbow-length veil was scalloped around the edges and accented by bugle beads and seedless pearls. The bride's jewelry included antique diamond earrings, a gift of her paternal great-grandmother.

Complementing the bride's ensemble was a bouquet of pink lilies.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was the bride's college roommate, Sarah Emery. Bridesmaids were Amanda Salento, cousin of the bride; Chandra Grace; Mary McManus; Karen Henle; and Nicole Dahl. The flower girl was Madison Alter, niece of the bride. The attendants wore pink satin gowns that featured ivory sashes and halter necklines. They each carried hand-tied bouquets of mixed flowers.

Serving as best man was Steven Williams, brother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Matthew Lang, brother of the bride; Patrick McGuigan; Ronald Adams; Charles Walters; and Andrew Houser. The ring bearer was Jack Alter, nephew of the bride. Ushers were Brian Carpenter, Aaron Maxwell, and Ken Powell.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception at A Roof With a View. Guests enjoyed the music of the Fantastic Five. For the reception, the bride changed into a less formal, strapless, tea-length gown by Vera Wang.

On the eve of the wedding, the groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in honor of the bride and groom at Frankie's Restaurant. Following a honeymoon to Italy, the couple is at home in Charlotte, where the bride is a communications specialist with Bank of America, and the groom is an attorney for Leonard & Jenkins Law Firm.
